Mevis S.p.A is proud to introduce its new Production Unit located in Samorin Slovakia. The main goal that brought to Mevis Slovakia s.r.o. birth is to get closer to the customers of the group that have already moved their facilities to the East European Countries. The Italian company will undoubtedly benefit for a great emerging market, a solid mechanics know-how largely spread in the region and, of course, labor rates still lower than the Western European ones.

Mevis Slovakia s.r.o. has this great chance to manufacture small metallic parts for the automotive, electromechanical and household electrical appliances through the cold form-giving process of metallic (and not) raw materials such as wires, pipes and bands. The production unit has been launched in less than 4 months and the investment is remarkable, 180 million SKK (5 million EUR).

This is a sign of a long-term strategy, but more than this, the choice of a Slovakian Management is a crystal clear evidence of the company commitment. Today the facility employs 40 Slovakian people supported by 10 Italian colleagues who will get back to Italy once the training will be accomplished in order to let the structure working "stand alone".
